SINGAPORE'S MOST STYLISH WOMEN 2008

They came, they posed, they conquered. BAZAAR's list of 10 ladies, each with their own breed of sartorial savvy and an unmistakable sense of chic, take on that most iconic of fashion statements — classic black — to serve as living proof that style is not about seasonal trends or the label on your back. Rather, it's in the innate self-confidence that comes with not following anyone's rules but your own.

THE MIRACLE WORKER

Dr Patricia Yuen, 41, consultant
dermatologist and restaurateur

Yuen's classy sensibility means smart ensembles with clean lines for work. But when the doc is off duty, she lives in design denim and playful mix-and-match separates.

My style is ... Fuss-free and classic, with a twist.

Fashion philosophy Don't let fashion wear you. You have to work the clothes.

Signature statement piece My Asscher-cut diamond ring from my husband.

What I consider stylish Confidence, passion and humility.

Designers I love Too many to count. Marni has fun yet classic pieces, and its statement necklaces never cease to amaze me every season. Lanvin is forever feminine, luxurious and timeless.

Shopping haunt Inhabit at Palais Renaissance is a hotspot for an eclectic variety of independent styles, from the most well-stocked denim bar with current jean labels to the most spunky little cocktail numbers.

The most stylish person I know My mum is a real class act. She is beautiful, kind, smart, confident and never loses her cool. She's in her 60s but looks only 40, and her dress sense is extremely feminine and elegant. Most people think she's my sister!
